ENOUGH FOOD TO WIN THE WAR AND WRITE THE PEACE

In food and fiber resources, the United Nations exceed the Axis countries overwhelmingly.

Of the world's agricultural output, the countries fighting for freedom produce nearly all the cotton, more than four-fifths of the corn and rice and cattle and wool, close to three-fourths of the wheat and sugar, and about two-thirds of the hogs and eggs.

From the United States alone comes half of the world's corn and eggs, about 40 percent of the cotton, and about one-fourth of the hogs.

Moreover, the farmers of the United States are engaged in a record-smashing production effort to make sure there will be enough of the right foods for Americans and all other peoples fighting against the Axis.

Our utmost efforts, added to what we already have, will supply the food to enable our armed forces to outfight the Axis; food to enable our working forces to out-produce the Axis.

When freedom's righteous might sweeps over the Axis slave-makers, the foods of the United Nations will serve a mission of mercy in relieving the misery and suffering of invaded and plundered peoples.

Finally, when trade can flourish in an orderly and peaceful world, the victorious Freedom Countries will have food to enable the peoples of the world to eat better than ever before.

In the end, food will win the war and write the peace.
